

74% OF PARENTS DON'T KNOW WHO WOULD TAKE CARE OF THEIR KIDS IF THEY COULDN'T!
ALEXIS CAN HELP

It's true, 74% of the parents in your audience don't even have a Will to name who would raise their kids if they were in an accident. And, the parents who do have a Will don't realize it won't keep their kids from being taken out of their home in the hours after a tragic accident.

Alexis Martin Neely, America's Personal Family Lawyer and a mom herself, will teach your audience why it's so important to name both long- and short-term guardians for their kids and how easy it is to take care of this planning so there's no reason to put it off another day.

- Alexis guides your audience through the 3 keys to choosing the right guardian for their kids.
- Let Alexis help a couple in your audience choose guardians for their kids even if they haven't been able to agree up until now.
- Alexis gives your audience the 6 common mistakes people make when choosing guardians – so they can avoid them.
- Let Alexis talk to a couple who thinks they have it all taken care of to show how anyone can be making at least one of these 6 common mistakes.
- Alexis guides your audience through 9 simple steps they can take right away to make sure their kids and money would always be taken care of the way they want.
- Alexis talks about the nuts and bolts of what happens to your money, property and businesses after you die.

Producers: This is not a depressing conversation about death –
Alexis makes this tough topic easy to discuss!
